From the Editor
   Medicine's Response to Lifestyle-Related Preventable Illness 283
   Jennifer L. Weinberg

Educating for Professionalism
   Ethics Cases
      Lifestyle is Medicine 286
      Commentary by David L. Katz

      Meeting Patients Where They Are 293
      Commentary by Mark T. Hughes

      Hospital Cafeteria Food: The Meat and the Message 299
      Commentary by Lenard I. Lesser and Sean C. Lucan

Medical Education
   Lifestyle Medicine Competencies for Primary Care Physicians 306
   Wayne S. Dysinger

State of the Art and Science
   Health Span Extension through Green Chemoprevention 311
   Jed W. Fahey and Thomas W. Kensler

   Health Coaching 319
   Amireh Ghorob, Rachel Willard-Grace, and Thomas Bodenheimer

Law, Policy, and Society
   Health Law
      Oreos, Big Gulps, and Nicotine: Legal Challenges to Government Lifestyle Interventions 327
      Valarie Blake

   Policy Forum
      Cigarette Marketing and Packaging 332
      Andrew A. Strasser and Lynn T. Kozlowski
Unintended Consequences of Obesity-Targeted Health Policy
Andrew W. Brown and David B. Allison

Medicine and Society

Uncle Sam in Your Kitchen: Using Population Approaches to Improve Diet
Kristina H. Lewis

History, Art, and Narrative

History of Medicine

Behavior Change in America: Public Health, Medicine, and Individual Counseling
Anthony L. Schlaff

Development of the Biopsychosocial Model of Medicine
Micah R. Sadigh

Op-Ed and Correspondence

The Physician’s Role in Nutrition-Related Disorders: From Bystander to Leader
Neal D. Barnard

Resources

Suggested Readings and Resources

About the Contributors

Upcoming Issues of Virtual Mentor

- May: Reality and Perception in the Management of Pain
- June: Physician Leadership and Team-Based Care
- July: Incentives and Motivation in Medical Care
- August: Ethics in Cancer Prevention and Care